in a truly one-of-a-kind exhibition, award-winning British photographer Paul Reiffer brings a unique selection of his finest work to the luxury island of PER AQUUM Huvafen Fushi nestled in amongst palm leaves, banyan trees and the island's stunning infinity pool at The Lair, you'll find breathtaking landscapes and urban images on display as part of his signature collection about paul

travelling the world, Paul Reiffer has captured scenes which have been displayed across three continents - from the largest video screen on the planet in Times Square, New York, to the Royal Albert Hall and Houses of Parliament in London featured in National Geographic's latest book release of "the world's greatest landscapes", his three year Asia-Pacific project saw him recognised with a Fellowship in the British Institute of Professional Photography and presented with the UN/UNESCO "International Year Of Light" award with access to vantage points not always available to the public, his unique photography has been used by clients including the US National Park Service, IMAX, British Airways, Rolls Royce, and of course PER AQUUM - as well as allowing him to run sell-out workshops around the world as a frequent visitor to the resort, in a unique collaboration with the island he calls home, Paul now proudly invites you to visit a collection of some of his most recognised work along with iconic images of the island itself photographic style

each of Paul's images is captured in a single frame, at a unique moment in time ever since his first introduction to photography as a child, helping his father in a self-built darkroom, Paul has used his in-depth knowledge of light to capture the true beauty of the world instead of relying on any post-process manipulation - digital or otherwise through meticulous planning and preparation, he has managed to record breathtaking scenes from across the planet, bringing stunning landscapes into the homes and offices of collectors around the world in a way that allows the viewer to feel as if they were really there at the time using the most advanced medium format camera system in the world, his images capture up to 100 million pixels of detail in any one photograph; from the smallest leaf on a tree to the most intricate of patterns and shades on a distant mountain, a challenge that requires the utmost levels of both creativity and technical know-how in every photograph he takes, Paul's goal is to bring the most amazing views of the world to your wall
